

ProQuest is a database similar to EBSCOhost Academic Search Premier, produced by a competing company. It provides indexing and many full-text articles (with graphics) in over 2,000 magazines, journals and newspapers (including the Columbian and Oregonian).

Off-campus password = your Clark ID #.

ProQuest Exercise

- Assignment: Find articles about the effects of television violence on children. All searches are keyword searches.

1. At the Library home page, select Articles & Newspapers, then ProQuest.
2. Be sure Date range: is All dates.

Type: television and violence and child*      How many _____ ?

- Why did you type the “*” after child*** ?

3. Now, find articles in scholarly journals. There are 2 ways to do this:
  - a. Select the Scholarly journals tab at the top of the list of articles

Or ...

- b. Scroll to bottom of screen. Check mark Scholarly journals, including peer reviewed. Redo search. How many _____?

4. Choose one full-text scholarly article.

Author: _____

Article Title: _____

Journal Title: _____

Date: _____ Volume & Issue: _____ Pages: _____

List 2 of its subject terms:

5. If you don't know how to email an article to yourself, do so now.