

EMPLOYMENT/TRANSFER

JUNE 2018

Clark College, in service to the community, guides individuals to achieve their educational and professional goals. Through the college's focus on student outcomes, the college aims to connect students to their long-term educational goals. For Clark College students these goals are most often employment and/or transferring to another higher education institution.

Monthly Highlights

- Clark College collaborated with Portland State University to submit a renewal grant from the National Institutes of Health (NIH) for the BUILD EXITO Program. BUILD EXITO is an undergraduate research training program that supports students, specifically systemically non-dominant students, on their pathway to be successful in health research careers. The program aims to identify students early in their college career and engage them in finding solutions to today's major health problems. Students at Clark College partner with Portland State University, and other community colleges and universities, to gain hands-on research experience at every stage of their undergraduate education. This program is a model for the student centered pathways, from the beginning of a student's academic career through the completion of a baccalaureate degree and onto further research and employment.
