Select one class from above or list alternate upper division class if a lower division Cultural Gender Diversity class is taken.

Notes:

A lower Division class such as Clark Colleges Woman's Studies (WS 101) can be used to meet the Cultural Gender Diversity Studies requirement, but another upper division class, or more internship (to a maximum of 15 internship credits) must be taken so the total upper division credits equals 60.

Upper division classes from other schools may be used, subject to the approval of EWU.

If you have an AA transfer degree, one or more LD classes may be used to meet GEGR requirements, but a total of 60 UD credits must be taken.

* Go to <http://www.ewu.edu/x3074.xml> for class information, and to register.
 There are also a number of other EWU Distance and On-line classes that may be used.

The information in this document is for planning only. For specific program requirements refer to the applicable EWU Catalog.
