

For Nursing Program

Theory

- Evaluate the patient's health in relation to normal and abnormal path physiology.
- Describe the appropriate nursing management of client care.
- Evaluate the pharmacological management of the patient.
- Recommend methods of health maintenance and promotion for individual clients and their families.
- Determine the roles of the professional nurse in the community.

Clinical

- Assimilate into the role of the professional nurse.
- Formulate sound clinical decisions based upon critical thinking abilities, the nursing process, and principles of evidenced-based practice.
- Communicate effectively as a member of the health care team.
- Integrate holistic nursing concepts when providing care to the patient, family, and community.