

ARA SERJOIE

Development veteran joins Clark College Foundation

Ara Serjoie has been appointed vice president of development for the Clark College Foundation. Serjoie brings more than 12 years of experience in higher education and nonprofit fundraising to the Foundation's management team. He previously served in various development functions at the University of Utah, Weber State University and Utah State University. He most recently served as the director of development and alumni relations for the Girl Scouts of Utah.