Sam Reed will visit Clark College

Washington Secretary of State Sam Reed will be at Clark College today as part of a weeklong campaign to encourage young people to vote in the 2006 election and beyond.

Reed and local officials will meet with students from 9 to 10 a.m. in the Penguin Student Lounge at Gaiser Hall on Fort Vancouver Way north of East McLouglin Boulevard.

Clark College is one of more than 20 technical and community colleges and state universities Reed will visit.

Activities will include voter registration and demonstrations of disability-access voting equipment.
