Clark College asks who's best on staff

Clark College wants to know who — in the eyes of its students and graduates — should receive the 2007 Exceptional Faculty Awards from the school's foundation.

An award can amount to as much as $1,500.

The selection is based on exemplary teaching and a positive effect on students, but criteria also could include professional achievement, demonstration of respect for differences, cooperative spirit, leadership and contributions to the college or community.

The honored teachers "portray a passion and desire for teaching that inspires students to follow their educational dreams," said Lisa Gibert, Clark College Foundation president.

Nominations are due Friday. Online nominations can be submitted until midnight.

More information and an online nomination form can be found at www.clark.edu under the News & Events button.
