Two Clark County business and civic leaders have been appointed to serve on the board of the Clark College Foundation. Jeanne Firstenberg and Renee Nutter are expected to play key roles in the success of Clark College students over their three-year terms. "The addition of these new board members strengthens the backgrounds and experiences of our foundation board," said Bruce Davidson, chairman of the foundation, a nonprofit that serves as the fundraising arm of Clark College. Firstenberg was recently appointed to the office of president of First Independent, the region's largest privately-owned bank. She is also active in many community organizations and was named a 2009 Woman of Achievement by Clark College and YWCA Clark County. Nutter is a lifetime resident of the Vancouver area. She and her husband, Jerry, both attended Clark College. She has served on numerous local committees and boards involving youth, education and activities. In 2007, she became the director of Dozer Days, an event that features more than 20,000 guests while raising money for local children's charities. Since 2008, Nutter has served on the education advisory board of the Washington Policy Center.
