

NEWS BRIEFS

Clark College launches new adult learning institute

The Clark College Continuing Education Department has created the Learning For Life Institute, geared toward community members 40 and older who are interested in learning more, if only for the enjoyment of it. The institute opens this fall and will offer day trips across the Pacific Northwest, five-week courses on a variety of subjects and a Friday night dinner and lecture series.

For more information, call 360-992-2213 or visit http://web.clark.edu/conted/community_ed/learning_for_life.html.