

Outstanding Clark College alumni sought

□ Several local residents have been past recipients

Nominations for the 2007 Clark College Outstanding Alumni Award are currently being accepted.

Nominees must have attended Clark College for a minimum of one year. In addition, they must have provided exceptional service to the college through alumni activities, volunteer work, financial support or college employment; demonstrated exemplary service to the community; or demonstrated outstanding personal professional achievements.

Several past and present Camas-Washougal residents are among the 22 people who have received the Clark College Outstanding Alumni Award. Local recipients include Roger Daniels and Dennis Huston in 2005, Larry Rakestraw in 1992 and Denis Hayes in 1978.

The 2007 award recipient will be honored at the Clark College Alumni Student Dinner in April.

Nomination forms are available at www.clarkcollegefoundation.org/alumni/outstanding/index.html or by contacting Nancy Simmons at 992-2705 or nsimmons@clark.edu.

Nomination forms are due by Sunday, Dec. 31.
