

Nominees sought for Clark College alum honor

Bill Myers
staff reporter

The Clark College Alumni Association is accepting nominations for the 2007 Clark College Outstanding Alumni Award.

Nominees must have attended Clark College for a minimum of one year. Other qualifications include exceptional service to the College through alumni activities, volunteer work, financial support or College employment, exemplary service to the community or outstanding personal or professional achievements.

Previous recipients include former Washington legislator Robert Schaefer, coordinator of the first Earth Day, Denis Hayes, and Vancouver Columbian newspaper journalist Tom Korenninger.

Nominations are due not later than Dec. 31 and can be sent to Clark College Alumni Association, MS 39, 1800 McLoughlin Blvd., Vancouver, WA 98663 or faxed to (360) 750-5759. Nomination forms are available at <http://www.clarkcollegefoundation.org/alumni/outstanding/index.html> or by contacting Nancy Simmons at (360)-992-2705 or nsimmons@clark.edu.