9:00 a.m. - 10:00 a.m.

PEAK OIL AND THE TRANSITION INITIATIVE

Location: PUB 161 (Penguin Student Lounge)

David Johnson

Over the last 150 years our world society has become increasingly reliant upon one finite resource in order to keep business running as usual, namely oil. In the coming years we will reach the half way point in the amount of oil that can be extracted from the earth, and from then on increasing demand will be met by diminishing supply. This presentation will look at the evidence for the peaking in oil supply and one movement, the Transition movement, as one response to the challenges that lie ahead.

ECOTOURISM: EXPLORING NEW WAYS TO LIVE ON THE PLANET

Location: Penguin Union Building [PUB], Room 258B Jody Shulnak

Responsible ecotourism includes travel that minimizes the negative aspects of conventional tourism on the environment and enhances the cultural integrity of local people. From the rainforests of Costa Rica to the game parks of South Africa and beyond, Jody Shulnak has seen and experienced the impacts of tourism on the environment around the globe. Join her to discuss some of the issues surrounding sustainable tourism and of the ecotourism principles she discovered during her two-year journey around the world.

THE PAPERLESS WORKSPACE (CLASSROOM, OFFICE, ETC.)

Location: Penguin Union Building [PUB], Room 258C Mark Baum

Creative opportunities arise when educational insiders and outsiders, those who are not weighed down by the "way things have always been done," connect with a fresh perspective, and therefore exercise clear thinking that is unfettered by established practices, internal politics or other group impediments. Using a collaborative approach, these temporary team members can then push people to think outside the limits of their existing mindset.

10:00 a.m. - 11:00 a.m.

THE ENERGY CHALLENGE: CHOICES AND CONSEQUENCES

Location: PUB 161 (Penguin Student Lounge)

Chuck Klang

Options for dealing with global warming and the consequences of these choices.

WOMEN AND GLOBAL CLIMATE CHANGE

Location: Penguin Union Building [PUB], Room 258B Ann Snyder

How does global climate change impact women? What do women's human rights have to do with global climate change? What actions are women around the world taking to ameliorate the negative impact global climate change is having on their communities?

GREEN-COLLAR CAREERS

Location: Penguin Union Building [PUB], Room 258C Tim Cook

Wouldn't it be great to have a career that is line with your values? Green careers have expanded dramatically in the past few years. This session will discuss the concept of a green career as well as provide resources on the many options that are now available.

9:00 a.m. - 3:00 p.m. | Scarpelli, Foster, Bauer, Gaiser

EcoTRONICS DRIVE

Do you have no-longer-used electronic devices stashed in a closet, basement, garage or junk drawer? Not sure what to do with them? Alpha Sigma Phi, the Clark College chapter of Phi Theta Kappa will be hosting an EcoTronics drive the week of February 2nd. Dispose of your electronic waste by participating! We will collect your working or not working cell phones, ink jet cartridges, DVDs, laptop computers, MP3 players, and digital cameras and dispose of them properly! collection bins can be found in Scarpelli, Bauer, Foster, and Gaiser Halls.

11:00 a.m. - 12:00 p.m.

COMMUNICATING THROUGH CONFLICTING OPINIONS ON GLOBAL WARMING

Location: PUB 161 (Penguin Student Lounge)

MaryJean Williams

Global Warming is a topic with conflicting opinions. It can be difficult to listen to points of view that differ from our own. A public dialogue is needed about Global Warming. How do we manage the inevitable conflicts? This workshop handles techniques for listening through conflict, and focusing on communication rather than persuasion.

BICYCLE AND PEDESTRIAN TRAVEL FOR A HEALTHIER ENVIRONMENT AND A HEALTHIER YOU!

Location: Penguin Union Building [PUB], Room 258B Lisa Borho

Explore practical ways to make commuting on foot or by bike a practical reality. Find out about bike and pedestrian routes around the city and discuss the positive impact on biking or walking over driving—both environmentally and wellness-wise.

STUDYING CLIMATE CHANGE USING REPEAT PHOTOGRAPHY

Location: Penguin Union Building [PUB], Room 258C Adam Mosbrucker

Learn about how the world's glaciers are responding to climate change and how repeat photography is being used to evaluate them.
