CLARK COLLEGE
Commencement Ceremony

JUNE 17, 2021

A year like no other...and a Commencement you'll never forget.

Our friends and family aren't with us on the soccer field, but we can still make this evening full of pomp and circumstance!

Cheer for your fellow grads as they cross the stage

Share your selfies, stories, and shout-outs on social media, using the hashtag #clarkcollege

Feel that your loved ones are with you by letting them know they can watch the ceremony being livestreamed at www.clark.edu/go/grad

Congratulations

I celebrate and honor you for your perseverance, resilience, resourcefulness, and determination. Many of you have faced hurdles with making it to this Commencement: not just the reading, assignments, group work, and exams that come with being a college student, but also the challenges specific to the past year. Global pandemic. Separation from friends and family. Economic and political upheaval. Racial reckoning, and more. It's been quite a year!

All of you have been impacted by this somehow, which is why this graduation is a particularly special moment of triumph. I hope you are proud of your accomplishment, because the Clark College family is proud of you.

I encourage you to use your degree and the lessons you have learned as you continue your journey. Use them to build our community into something stronger, wiser, and more just. I also encourage you to make learning a priority always. Be sure to take good care of yourself, and practice human kindness. It's what the world needs now.

Finally, don't be in a hurry to return to normal; instead, use your voice and your collective power to effect change and create a new normal. I know you are up to this challenge. Your presence here at Commencement is proof of that. I am so impressed by what you have accomplished this year—but I am even more excited to see what you accomplish next!

Go Penguins!

Employee Awards

EXCEPTIONAL CLARK COLLEGE ADMINISTRATIVE-EXEMPT AWARDS

Honoring administrative-exempt employees who contribute in significant ways toward building a positive climate, inclusive environment, and improvement of the quality of life at Clark College.

Michelle Golder, Special Projects and Activities Manager

“As the head of the college’s Event Services department, Michelle oversees the logistics of the college’s signature events, which include both cultural events like Sakura and MLK Day, as well as institutional events like State of the College and Commencement. Whatever the event, Michelle works tirelessly to make sure everything runs according to plan and stays within budget. Whatever the challenge, she rises to meet it.”

Eriko Otsuko, Senior Software Engineer

“It’s due to her hard work that we have an online health screening tool that allows students and employees to come to campus during COVID-19. She has also logged countless hours rewriting applications so they can work in the ctcLink environment.”

EXCEPTIONAL CLASSIFIED STAFF AWARDS

Honoring Classified staff employees for their exemplary work performance, outstanding service to the college, a positive and cooperative spirit, and/or special achievements or contributions to the college.

Connor Cantrell, Library and Archives Paraprofessional 4

“Connor’s dedication to ensuring our students have the best Clark College experience is one of the things that makes her a remarkable asset to the library. She listens to students when they are upset, confused, angry, and defeated and ensures that students are connected to needed resources.”

Jeff Kaliner, Emergency Program Manager

“Jeff performed exemplary in managing several crises confronting the college last year. I was very impressed as I saw him quickly rise to the challenge of the COVID-19 crisis. All of his experience and skills were an asset in managing the college community safely through the crisis and onto recovery.”

EXCEPTIONAL FACULTY AWARDS

Recognizing faculty members for their exemplary work performance, positive impact on students, professional commitment, and other contributions to the college.

Kayoko Barnhill, mathematics

“I have been taking Math for Elementary Education courses, and her course is very tailored not just to learning the materials, but learning how to teach each others in class. I have struggled with math my whole life, and her course gave me confidence that not only could I learn it, but I could gain deeper understanding and effectively teach it.”

Tony Chennault, biology

“He believed in me when I didn’t believe in myself. He encouraged me to keep going, he told me I could do it when I didn’t think I could do it myself. He teaches in a way that you understand, even if it’s not your strongest subject. He is so inspiring, motivating, and encouraging.”

Nami Inoue, Japanese

“She’s fun, upbeat and always brings such a positive energy into class. ...When I first began at Clark College, I had a very negative outlook on school based on my previous high school experiences. I decided to take some classes for fun and try out a college environment. Inoue Sensei’s passion for teaching and love for her students was so warm compared to any teacher I’ve had before. She helped me rediscover the love I have for learning and school.”

Michelle Mallory, early childhood education

“To know Michelle is to love Michelle! She is a fierce defender of the learner and believes strongly in meeting the learner where they are at and with respect, dignity and recognition of the learner’s culture and style of learning.”

Joshua Patrick, English

“Professor Patrick has taught me that I should never be ashamed to voice my opinion. He made me feel smart, validated, and taught me how to communicate my thoughts and opinions to others in an effective way to make them listen. He also engraved some very useful critical-thinking skills into my brain that I think will be very helpful throughout the rest of my college experience—but most importantly, I’ll be able to apply these skills to my daily life.”

Kristi Taylor, dental hygiene

“Kristi has been incredibly supportive in a time of great financial uncertainty and worked on behalf of all her students to help us figure out a plan, or make contact with those who could offer us answers and help. She worked to provide all of us with an avenue for Covid vaccination if we desired it. She works tirelessly on our behalf and still manages to answer emails in less than an hour. She’s basically Wonder Woman!”

LORA WHITFIELD SOCIAL EQUITY AWARD

Awarded to a member of the Clark College community who has demonstrated a sustained commitment to advancing equity, in memory of Early Childhood Education professor and Clark College alumna Lora Whitfield.

Rosalba Pitkin, Diversity Outreach Manager

“Though she will go above and beyond her role to support any student, her heart lies with immigrants and undocumented students, a particularly vulnerable segment of our student population. Rosalba creates an environment of belonging for these learners by welcoming them to the college, explaining the U.S. education system and how Clark can help them reach their goals, walking them through admission and enrollment processes, and offering consistent academic and personal support throughout their time at the college.”

Clark College publishes stories about award recipients on our news site Clark 24/7 at news.clark.edu/category/employees/hr-news/employee-awards. Visit and learn more about award recipients in years past and present.

Academic Regalia

Academic dress, like judicial dress, probably had its beginnings from an ecclesiastic origin. Over the centuries, British and Commonwealth universities have retained the earlier custom in which holders of doctorate degrees wear scarlet gowns and round bonnets. In the United States, the trend has been to more subdued dress.

HOODS

The academic hood is normally worn by holders of master’s and doctorate degrees, but can also be worn by those with a bachelor’s degree. The colors seen on that part of the hood which fits around the neck represent the person’s major academic discipline. For instance, the School of Education is represented by light blue, Engineering—orange, Arts, Letters, Humanities—white, Music—pink, Physical Education—sage green, Science—golden yellow, and Business—drab. That part of the hood which hangs across the back and between the shoulders is lined with the official color or colors of the college conferring the degree. Examples include University of Washington—purple and gold, Washington State University—crimson and grey, University of Oregon—green and gold, and Oregon State University—orange and black.

GOWNS

Clark College graduating students wear gowns of light blue (for high school diplomas or equivalents), royal blue (for associate degrees and certificates), or white (for bachelor’s degrees). Administrators, faculty and staff who hold an associate, bachelor’s or master’s degree wear black gowns without trim. Those with a doctorate degree also wear black, but have distinctive velvet facings down the front of the gown and three horizontal velvet bars on each sleeve. The trim is usually black, but can also be worn in the color reflective of the academic discipline.

CAPS

The most common cap worn in the United States is the mortar board, named for its flat top. A tassel is fastened at the middle point of the cap, and worn on the right. The tassel is moved from right to left upon the conferring of the degree. Clark College graduating students wear a silver and royal-blue tassel signifying the school colors. Those who are graduating † wear an additional tassel in the corresponding color of their honor status (see “Academic Honors,” above). Administrators, faculty and staff generally wear black tassels, with the exception of the gold tassel worn by holders of a doctorate degree.
