

Home Remodeling Recycling

Every year, about 75% of what Americans throw out is recyclable, but only about 30% of it is actually recycled. If you are remodeling your home, consider buying previously used materials and recycling any materials that you no longer want.

Many organizations sell used furniture and reclaimed building materials. If you have a project coming up look through these shops for their variety of options or if you have completed a project recently take extra materials in so someone else may repurpose them.

Where to Go:

Rebuilding Center (Portland)

Re-use It (Portland Metro)

Habitat for Humanity ReStore

PlanetReuse

Clark County Recycling A-Z

Rejuvenation (Has a reclaim section)

Other Information:

Green Home Remodel: Salvage and Reuse

REGREEN: residential Remodeling Program

Green Home Remodel Guides

Created by Kara Meredith

Sustainable is Attainable:
Promote Green Education and Practices