Reusable Bags and Containers

There are many different types of reusable bags on the market. Reusable bags are made of heavier materials and are stronger and more durable. You can get them in a variety of colors and designs that fit your style.

Many different types of containers can be reused. They can be used for food, supplies, arts and crafts, and storage. Containers are usually made to be microwavable and heat resistant which means that it takes longer in the landfill to break down so remember to reuse.
