Clark College Area High School Graduates Class of 2006 One Year Follow-up

A College Enrollment Study is conducted each year for the Washington State Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction (OSPI) by the Social and Economic Sciences Research Center at Washington State University, in cooperation with the Washington State Board for Community and Technical Colleges (SBCTC) and Washington's public baccalaureate colleges and universities. Information in this report is based on data submitted to OSPI from local school districts and matched to National Student Clearinghouse (NSC) records. Adjustments are made to the high school data based on SBCTC enrollment figures.

57% (2,693) of all Clark College area high school graduates attended college within one year after graduation.

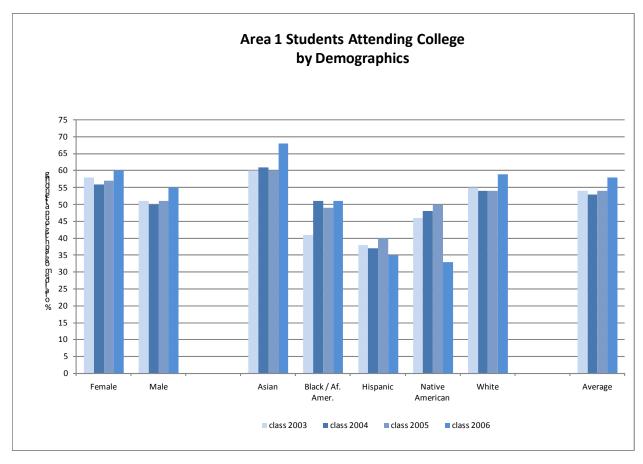

51% of those students who attended college were enrolled in a Washington community or technical college.

College attendance of 2006 high school graduates from the Clark College area was slightly lower than the state of Washington average. 57% of Clark College area graduates attended college within one year of graduation, compared to 60% of high school graduates statewide. 27% of all area high school graduates attended Clark College within their first year of graduation. This is a slight increase from the class of 2005.

48% of all graduates from area high schools who attended college enrolled at Clark College.

Demographics of Graduates Who Attended College

A greater percentage of females than males from Area 1 attended college within one year of high school graduation. The rate of college attendance of high school graduates who attended college within one year of high school graduation was highest for Asian students, and lowest for Native American and Hispanic students. Attendance at college within a year of graduation is up overall, but down for both Hispanic and Native American high school graduates.

Note: the average used for this graph matches the students for whom demographic data was available and is based on actual students matched to NSC data without any attendance estimates.

Colleges Attended

The percentage of high school graduates from the Clark College area who attended a Washington community and technical college was 51%.

Almost all of those Washington two-year students were enrolled at Clark College or Lower Columbia, as documented in the chart below and on the following page. Since students may attend multiple colleges at the same time the following chart counts these students as a one-half (.5) student at both colleges. An additional 24% attended a four-year public school in Washington and 3% attended a private four-year school in-state. A total of 78% attended in-state schools, up from 76% for the class of 2005. The remaining 22% attended school outside of Washington State, as seen on the following page. Names of all colleges attended by Area 1 and Area 2 graduates can be found in the Appendix.

Notes:

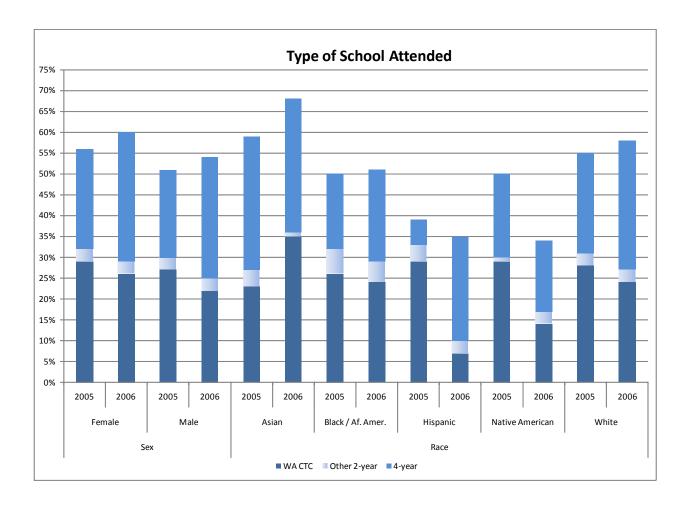

A student who attended 2 schools is calculated as a one-half (.5) student and reported at both schools in this table.

1,336 students attended Clark College. However, some attended both Clark and another school which results in a figure for Clark College of 1,282. All other data in this report will use the total number of 1,336 who attended Clark College. See appendix for full list of colleges

Demographics by Type of School Attended

Attendance differences exist primarily between racial/ethnic groups. The graph below is for Area 1 graduates only (95% of the graduates). A high percentage of Asian high school graduates enroll directly in a four-year college. Hispanic students have the lowest four-year participation rate, which dropped even further in 2006 but was offset somewhat by their increased attendance at four-year schools. Black / African American students have the highest percentage of students who attended other two-year schools. Native American high school graduates also had a drop in the percent attending college.
