Power, Privilege & Inequity - Associates in Arts Degree

Area of Study: Public Service, Society and Education

In the contemporary United States, we are increasingly called upon to engage with multiple ideas and diverse peoples while addressing complex problems related to power, privilege, and inequity. When unprepared to address these issues, we often unknowingly perpetuate these problems. This Academic Concentration prepares students to identify power, privilege, and inequity as central organizing principles of human experience within the United States. Interest areas within the Associate in Arts degree provide students with an opportunity to take classes in a specific area that may match the academic major upon transferring to a four-year college or university.

> Free Tutoring Services are available to support you throughout your degree completion.

Scholarships Similar to grants, and there are different criteria; Clark College awards hundreds of thousands of dollars to students each year. We encourage everyone to apply!
