

Cheers: To 50 years of nursing education at Clark College. The program celebrated its anniversary this week with a “baby shower” for its newest high-tech mannequin that can simulate an infant in perfect health, or in crisis. The baby, which cost $38,000 and was purchased with Clark College Foundation funds, perfectly illustrates the complicated and sophisticated nature of today’s nursing education and nursing careers.