

Clark College presents the biting humor and drama of "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?"

The Broadway classic follows the relationships of George, an associate professor of history, and his wife, Martha, daughter of the college president, who exist in a conflicting marriage. They invite Nick, a newly arrived biology professor, and his wife, Honey, to their home, where drinking and contentious games lead to an evening of harsh truths. The production opens at 7:30 p.m. Nov. 2-3, 9-10 and 15-17 and 2 p.m. Nov. 10 at the Decker Theatre, Clark College, 1933 Fort Vancouver Way, Vancouver. Tickets are $12, $10 for seniors, $8 for students. Call 360-992-2815 or visit clark.edu.
