Deborah Simmers and Kassilin Cloyd each posted double-doubles as the Clark College women's basketball team claimed a 79-70 victory Thursday at Tacoma Community College.

Clark expanded on a 37-35 halftime lead and held off Tacoma late in the game for the win.

"We played a pretty good game," Clark coach Nancy Boone said. "We minimized our turnovers, which has been a problem for us."

Clark had 17 turnovers, Boone said, which was about 10 fewer than in its previous two games.
