

Clark to play for third place at invitational

Blue Mountain defeated host Clark College 68-63 on Saturday to reach the championship game of the Igloo Invitational women's basketball tournament at the O'Connell Center.

Blue Mountain will face Umpqua (2-0) in the 4 p.m. title game today.

Stephanie Lopez had 32 points, five rebounds and three steals to lead Blue Mountain (2-0) against the Penguins.

Macey Mukensnabl, a Skyview High grad, had 14 points for Clark (0-2), which lost to Chemeketa 76-66 on Friday. Chemeketa withdrew from the eight-team event so Clark took its spot in the semifinal.

Clark will play Portland at 2 p.m. today for third place. Olympic and Peninsula play for fourth place at noon.
