

Clark College choir and band will perform a 'musical tour'

The Clark College concert choir and concert band will perform "a musical tour of the British Isles" Friday, March 13, at 7:30 p.m., in the Royal Durst Theatre at the Vancouver School of Arts and Academics.

From Danny Boy to The Beatles' Can't Buy Me Love, the concert choir will travel musically through the centuries and across Great Britain. Featured soloists will include Caitlin Fisher, soprano; D.J. Unlayao, Tenor; Rachael Campbell, oboe; Mary Huibregtse, Irish step dancer; and two select ensembles from within the choir.

The concert band will feature traditional compositions by the masters of the wind symphony, Ralph Vaughn

Williams and Gustav Holst, and also perform a contemporary piece for wind band.

The Royal Durst Theatre is located at 3101 Main St. For more information, contact Peggy Winston at 992-2662.
