

Clark seeks matching fund donations

All donations made to the Clark College Mature Learning program by Dec. 31, up to $15,000, will be matched thanks to the generosity of an anonymous Vancouver resident.

Mature Learning is an educational and cultural enrichment program for people ages 55 and older. Classes include fitness, art, writing, computers, sciences, history and humanities.

"My wife and I learned to use the computer through the program," said the donor. "This program is very important to my age group. I challenge others to keep it alive during these difficult economic times."

To make a donation, contact the Clark College Foundation at 992-2301, or send an e-mail to info@clarkcollegefoundation.edu.
