

NWAACC honors Clark track athletes

Clark College freshman Brittany Henderson was named Northwest Athletic Association of Community Colleges female track and field athlete of the week on March 26. The Prairie High School graduate ran the 800 meters at the University of Oregon Preview Meet in Eugene in a time of 2 minutes, 15.98 seconds.

Two weeks earlier, the NWAACC selected Clark freshman Shane Weldon and sophomore Danielle Hutchison as the season's first male and female track and field athletes of the week.

Heritage High School graduate Weldon ran his first career 10,000-meter race in 32:00.15, the third-fastest time in school history. Evergreen High School graduate Hutchison ran the 5,000 meters in 19:29. Both performances were at a meet hosted by Linfield.
