

Clark to seal time capsule

A time capsule will be closed and sealed Thurs., July 30, 10 a.m., at Clark College, marking the 75th anniversary of the institution.

The capsule is slated to be opened during the college's 100th birthday during the 2033-2034 academic year.

Barbara Kerr, executive director of communications and marketing at Clark College, declined to be specific about the contents of the time capsule, hoping that those who open the capsule in 25 years will be surprised.

Kerr said the capsule contains a full history of the college, items reflecting major events in the college's history and early years, and items reflecting regional events. She suggested that the capsule contains letters from Gov. Gregoire and college president Bob Knight. She mentioned newspaper clippings but was not specific.

The capsule, which measures about 30 inches tall and 18 inches wide, will be encased in a sculpture located at the plaza north of Gaiser Hall.

The public is invited to watch the capsule ceremony. Kerr may be reached at 992-2921.
